

Kajaun Barnes

Kajaun Barnes graduated from Muskegon High School in 2012 and has held various jobs since then. An aspiring entrepreneur, he hopes to one day start his own business in Muskegon. On his off days, he enjoys basketball and reading to and playing with his 2-year-old daughter. Mr. Barnes cites his grandparents as a positive influence on his life, shaping him into the young man he is today. On what drives him to succeed, he notes, “Growing up I didn’t have much, and that pushes me every day to get more. There’s always more.”

Sam Booker

Sam Booker was born in Muskegon in 1953 to parents Ida and Samuel. Samuel and Ida arrived in Muskegon during the great migration, where he found work pouring iron at Lakey Foundry and she at restaurants and in nursing. Sam Booker graduated from Muskegon Heights High School in 1971 and attended Ferris State University until joining the U.S. Army in 1972. While in the Army, he worked in NATO as a Nike Hercules Missile crewman and in the 1/10 Mechanized Cavalry as a turret mechanic on the M-60 A1 tank. After a five year posting in West Germany, he returned to the U.S.

Back in Muskegon, Mr. Booker worked for the Eagle Ottawa Leather Company from 1979-2006, also serving as President, activist, and organizer for the Local 7252 of the Allied Industrial Workers Union. He graduated from Muskegon Community College in 2008, and worked at Michigan Steel until its 2010 closure. Mr. Booker is currently a member of the Muskegon Museum of Art staff, working in security.

Brandon Burrel

Brandon Phillip Burrel was born in Muskegon on February 3, 1986 to Bishop Willie L. Burrel and Lady Zandra M. Burrel. He is one of four children, his siblings being Willie Burrel Jr, Alexandra Burrel, and Philip Smalls. Brandon Burrel came up through the Muskegon Heights Public School system, where he participated in basketball, football, baseball, golf, track, cross country, and band. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and finished within the top 10 of his 2004 graduating class. Brandon continued on to complete his Associates Degree (2007) in General Studies at Muskegon Community College, his Bachelor of Arts (2009) in Sociology/Criminal Justice, and Master of Arts (2012) in Educational Leadership, both from Western Michigan University. During his college career, Brandon remained a force on the basketball court, and played for both Muskegon Community College and Kuyper College. Mr. Burrel made the basketball team at WMU as a walk-on (2009), but due to collegiate Division 1 rules was not able to play.

Following the completion of his BA, Mr. Burrel returned to his hometown of Muskegon Heights where he immediately began supporting the community with his talents and educational training as a teacher in the Muskegon Heights Public School District. He then worked for the State of Michigan as a Child Protective Services worker before stepping into his current role as a Disease Intervention Specialist with the Muskegon County Health Department. Mr. Burrel has found innovative ways to educate the local community, one of them being his Health Talk radio show on 103.7 The Beat. He can frequently be seen throughout the city at health forums, fairs, and events, establishing relationships, partnerships, and informative opportunities to improve the overall state of health in Muskegon/Muskegon Heights.

In addition to his educational and career accomplishments, Mr. Burrel takes great pride in his foundation of faith. He was raised in a faith filled home and church, Christ Temple Apostolic Faith Church, where his father Willie was the pastor until he lost the battle with cancer in October of 2009. Mr. Burrel is still a faithful member of the church, which is now under the pastoral leadership of his uncle Suffragan Bishop Avery Burrel.

Brandon Burrel has 2 children, Braylen Phillip Burrel and Bex Lee, both by his future wife Rachel Latsch. Although the youngest of the family, he continues to carry on the legacy of love, education, and faith that his parents instilled. In his free time, he enjoys basketball, flag football, softball, golf, fishing, volleyball, officiate sports, and world travel. Mr. Burrel has a strong belief in such enduring sentiments as "The Sky is the Limit," "Hard Work Pays Off," and "Never Settle." Through his work and faith, he hopes to establish a legacy that can live on for generations to come.

Edwin T. Chappel, Jr.

Edwin Troy Chappel Jr., better known as “TJ,” was born and raised in Muskegon Heights. He is the fourth of six children born to Arnetta A. Ware and Edwin T. Chappel, Sr. TJ attended Edgewood Elementary school in Muskegon Heights. From there he went on to Steele Middle School in Muskegon before becoming one of the first school of choice participants when he enrolled at Muskegon High School. As a Big Red, Mr. Chappel lettered twice as a varsity basketball player. He was also a member of the Big Red Marching Band, Student Leadership Council, Drama Club, and the National Honors Society. He was awarded “Best Personality” from his senior class, and graduated from Muskegon High School in position 25 out of 256 seniors; earning a 3.56 cumulative grade point average.

Mr. Chappel attended Baker College for a year after high school, before earning a scholarship as a walk-on basketball student-athlete at Shawnee State University in Portsmouth, Ohio. After 2 seasons as SSU, he transferred to Paul Quinn College, a Historical Black College located in Dallas, Texas. From there, he earned his bachelor’s degree in Human Services as well as a varsity letter for basketball.

Since graduating college, Mr. Chappel has held a variety of positions. From a heavy equipment operator to cemetery attendant to a youth development professional, he is a man of many skills. Today, he is extremely active in his home community as a Club Director of the BGC/21st CLCC Teen Zone in Muskegon Heights as well as a role model and middle school basketball coach.

Kevin M. Cummings

Lawaun Cunningham

Lawaun Cunningham was born in Muskegon and raised in a single family home with his two older brothers. He went to Muskegon Public Schools, and upon graduation enrolled in barber school in Detroit, where he obtained his Barber's License in 1996. He then worked at Burt's Barber Shop for 8 years. Brandon Davis

Brandon Davis, Esq. is a practicing attorney in Muskegon. A Detroit native, he attended Harry S. Truman High School in Taylor, MI and graduated from Southfield High School in 2004. Mr. Davis is an accomplished attorney, committed minister, and anointed gospel artist. After only three years of college, Brandon earned a Bachelors of Applied Arts in Interpersonal and Public Communications with an emphasis in Interpersonal Communication and a minor in American Sign Language from Central Michigan University in 2007. Brandon then obtained a Juris Doctorate from Wayne State University Law School in 2010. He passed the bar exam on his first attempt, at the age of 23. Since the completion of law school, Brandon's professional focus has been in the areas of Criminal, Family, and Labor Law.

He worked as an Attorney at Law for the Law Office of Randall P. Upshaw from 2010-2011 and was an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney for the Wayne State Prosecutor's Office from 2010-2013. He moved to Muskegon in 2013, where he served as Senior Assistant Prosecutor for the Muskegon County Prosecutor's Office until February of 2018.

As a child, Mr. Davis was constantly told that he would be a preacher, but he rejected that idea, swearing he would never preach. God had other plans, and called him to the ministry. When he's not in the courtroom, he spends his time ministering to God's people in both word and song. When he is not working, preaching, or singing, he enjoys spending time with his family and traveling the world. Mr. Davis strongly believes in operating in the spirit of excellence; he lives by Philippians 3:14 which states "I press toward the mark of the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

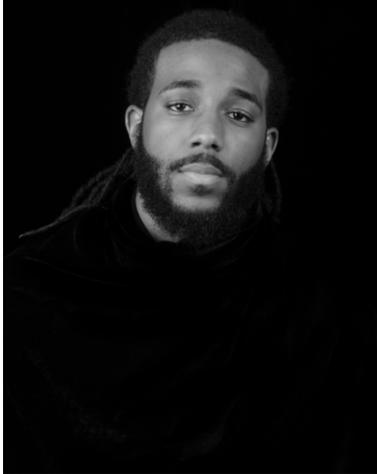

Christopher James Dean

Christopher Dean is currently employed as the Muskegon Heights Fire Chief. Khi L. Guy

Pastor Khi L. Guy was born on September 20, 1971 and raised in Muskegon Heights, Michigan. As God would have it, he accepted Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior at an early age and has not looked back. The evidence of God's hand upon his life was witnessed early, and Pastor Guy quickly became a servant of the Lord, leading bible study, Sunday school classes, and youth activities. He became the youngest Co-Pastor in the city of Muskegon Heights at Corinthians Baptist Church.

Pastor Guy began preaching at Corinthians Baptist Church in 1990 under the leadership of Pastor Clarence J. Guy. Three years later, he was ordained at Spring Street Baptist Church in Muskegon. From 1997-1998 he pastored his first church in California, the Sunflower Missionary Baptist Church. After a brief move away, under the direction of the Holy Spirit Pastor Guy returned to California.

In 2002 he organized the Greater Harvest Baptist Church in L.A. Pastor Guy, family, and church family joined Victory Bible Full Gospel Baptist Church in Pasadena, under the leadership of Bishop Milton M. White. Pastor Guy, led by the Spirit of God, chose not to challenge the leadership of the church. He purposed instead to follow the plan of God. God was ushering in a new thing; now he is the Pastor of Corinthians Baptist Church in Muskegon Heights, Michigan.

Pastor Guy attended Cornerstone University in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He has completed all course work for his bachelor's degree in Ministry/Business Leadership, received a Masters of Art in Biblical Studies, and is pursuing a Doctoral Degree in Ministry at Western Theological seminary in Holland, Michigan. Douglas Hunter, Jr.

Douglas R. Hunter Jr. was born and raised in Muskegon, MI. Of his life to date, he states: "I have completed high school. I graduated from a college. I am employed. I really enjoy muscle cars and good music. I like art. I am a sneaker guy. As a kid I once ran away from home to buy a York peppermint patty, hid behind my house, and believed when I bit into it I would feel the "sensation of skiing the Alps" (Commercials lie). I am a devoted man of God. I have been chosen to preach Christ. I am not a felon and I have never served prison time. I am a committed Husband to an absolutely beautiful and brilliant woman. I'm a blessed Dad of 5 incredible children, a grateful Son to my very patient and loving parents. I'm a thankful Brother to a few crazy and cool siblings and a true Friend but not many friends. Oh and I like sports, football mainly, but I am terrible at playing basketball."

Rev. Johnson is a licensed and ordained minister with the Missionary Church Inc. and has served as an associate pastor for 19 years and 20 years as the Senior Pastor of West Michigan Worship Center (formally known as West Shore Christian Fellowship).

Rev. Johnson recently completed a 6-year term serving on the Missionary Church Inc., General Board. 'Pastor Robert' is also an accomplished musician with several recordings to his credit. He has been a featured soloist in several international programs including World Vision and Youth for Christ, and has previously performed with noted musical artists such as Roy Clark, Glen Campbell, Pat Boone, The Osmonds, Mini Pearl, and others.

He currently resides in Muskegon Heights along with his wife of 42 years, Loistine. They have two daughters, Rachel and Olivia, and two grandchildren.

Joe L. Lane

Joe Lane is a native of Lansing, MI. He has always had a drive for the arts, specifically music. After high school he studied as the first Jazz drum performance major at the Oberlin Conservatory. He transferred to Michigan State, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Music Education. He went on to study at Grand Valley State University and obtained a Master of Arts in Ministry Leadership from Grand Rapids Theological Seminary.

For the majority of his life, Mr. Lane has been a touring musician, having shared the stage with many musical greats, especially in the genres of Jazz and Gospel. He has also spent most of his life as an educator. He was the first ever African-American educator at Orchard View Schools and the first minority administrator at Reeths-Puffer School District.

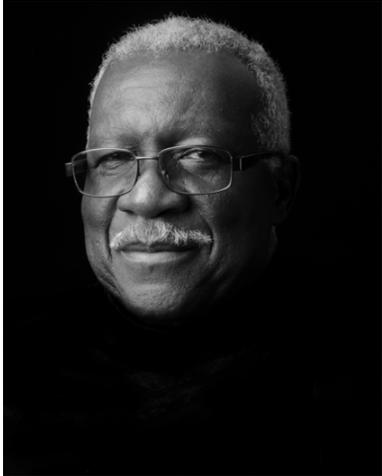

Mr. Lane has served as the founding and Senior Pastor of the New Life Christian Center of Muskegon since 2002. Additionally, he is a professional photographer and works with schools as a consultant specializing in climate, culture, and student behavior. He is in love with Sharri, his wife of 20 years, and the two of them have three children.

Kumasi Mack

Kumasi Mack is a podcast host, poet, mentor, community activist, entrepreneur, and father of five wonderful kids.

When he is not spending time with his family, he enjoys working with youth and seeing them progress towards a fruitful future. Mr. Mack is affiliated with the Men of Color Read, Young Brothers, and the National Black Urban Foundation's Sankofa.

Celester McCarty

Celester McCarty grew up in the South, and moved to Muskegon from Mississippi. After his graduation from Muskegon High School, he lived in Chicago until joining the United States Air Force, where he was a graduate of the First Sergeant Academy. After his military tour was complete he returned to Muskegon and attended Muskegon Business College. A graduate of the General Electric School of Distribution Management, his career included over 20 years in industrial and commercial sales and 8 in administrative management. He married Vernell Jones of Muskegon and the couple has two daughters. Active in the community, he served for several years as the Chairman of the March of Dimes.

Darius Mitchell

Darius Mitchell is a native son of Muskegon, Michigan and graduated from Muskegon Heights High School in 1997, where he is well known for being the Head Drum Major of the band during his time there, which is a major honor. He went on to further his education at Baker College of Muskegon earning a degree in Business Administration. He has also earned numerous certifications in globally recognized business practices such as Lean Manufacturing, Six Sigma, and Project Management.

Over the past 20 years in business, Darius has served in various roles including Supervisor, Operations Manager, Continuous Improvement Manager, Trainer, Production Manager, and Project Manager for respected companies/organizations such as Herman Miller, Arconic, La Colombe, Nestle (Gerber), MDOT, TGW, Work First, and presently Keurig Dr. Pepper.

Darius is also a lifelong member of Mt. Zion C.O.G.I.C. where he worships under the guidance of Pastor Duane E. Bennett and 1st Lady Beverly Cole-Bennett. In his spare time, Darius lives a healthy life style that includes exercising, eating the right foods, meditation and spending time with his two sons, Darron Mitchell (17), who recently graduated from Mona Shores High School and Dillon Mitchell (4). His sons are his life, he adores them, and is honored to be their father.

Even though Darius' career has been primarily in business, his real passion is mentoring teen agers, young adults and specifically young men. Being a mentor to young men is important to Darius as he understands the difficulties they face as he faced similar issues during his upbringing. Helping them find the motivation to want better for themselves and their families is what really motivates Darius and keeps him going.

He feels it's his duty to help the next person, because he remembers a time when he was the one who needed assistance and people were gracious enough to lend a helping hand; now it is his turn. Darius readily volunteers his time in the community doing park clean ups, public speaking, hosting free events for children, and coaching.

In the near future, Darius has plans of becoming a professor of business at a college or university where he can share his business acumen and experiences with the future businessmen and businesswoman in the community to help them navigate the ever changing business landscape so they can side step some of the mistakes he made along the way.

Darius is inspired by excellence in all things and his belief in this can be summed up by his favorite quote: Good, better, best. Never let it rest. 'Til your good is your better and your better is your best!

Robert R. Moore

Robert R. Moore was born in Macon, Georgia, the eldest of three children born to Samuel and Helen Moore. Mr. Moore was raised in Forsyth, Georgia, and attended Hubbard Elementary, Middle, and High School. He graduated from Hubbard High School in 1965. Church, a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Incorporated, and the Muskegon Heights Optimist Club. He is still actively performing in community and local musical groups.

William C. Muhammad

Born William C. Walker, Jr. at Hackley Hospital, he was raised in Muskegon Heights along with his sister by two wonderful, wise, and determined parents. Mr. Muhammad graduated from Muskegon Heights High School and attended college locally.

Coming of age during the rising tide of Blackness in the turbulent 1960s was a conscious raising experience and education outside of the classroom proved eye-opening. Portions of what was taught in school as American and World History proved to be biased and untrue. This new reality was partially nurtured by being an avid reader. Being around and studying many wise, strong Black folk and others helped greatly. People such as Robert and Mabel Williams, James and Grace Boggs, and Dr. James Jackson provided many ideas and lessons. The writings of many, including J.A. Rogers, Carter G. Woodson, the Honorable Elijah Muhammad and most recently, Dr. Joy DeGruy, have also been very enlightening. These and others, including his family, have helped Mr. Muhammad evolve.

The greatest influence in Mr. Muhammad's life has been Almighty God. His knowledge of God has been best clarified as a member of the Nation of Islam under the leadership of the Honorable Minister Louis Farrakhan. He has attempted, in his life, to be a fighter for freedom, justice, and equality for Black people and all people of color.

Most recently, William C. Muhammad humbly accepted his appointment as the President and Board Chairman of the James Jackson Museum of African American History. He is a founding member of the Muskegon Civilian Police Review Board, works as one of the Friends of the Muskegon Heights Library, serves as one of the leaders of a 4-H youth group the Busy Bees, and much more. He continues to try and help his community, especially young people.

Marvin A. Nash, Sr.

Marvin A. Nash, Sr. is a retired educator/administrator from the Muskegon Heights Public School District and currently serves as an adjunct professor at Muskegon Community College, teaching Political Science, International Relations, and African American History. Mr. Nash was born in New Orleans, Louisiana and grew up in the Gulf Coast Region, living in Bay St. Louis and Jackson, Mississippi. His favorite childhood memories are swimming, fishing, crabbing, shrimping, biking, hunting oysters and clams, collecting sea shells, and basketball. He moved to Michigan to work for the Muskegon Heights Public School District, beginning his career as a secondary social science teacher at the high school. His career path lead him to serve as an assistant director with a local non-profit community organization which specialized in employment and training. Later returning to K-12 education, he joined the school district management team and served in the positions of assistant high school principal, high school principal, and elementary principal. He holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in History and Political Science from Jackson State University, Jackson, Mississippi and Master of Public Administration and Master of Educational Leadership from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Mr. Nash currently lives in Twin Lake with his wife and has three adult children (one daughter and two sons) and two grandchildren. In his pastime, he enjoys reading, visiting museums and historical sites, traveling within the U.S. and abroad, gardening, landscaping, biking, swimming, walking nature trails, sailing, and volunteering with local organizations and serving on several local non-profit boards.

Dr. Dale Nesbary

Dale K. Nesbary, Ph.D. is in his 10th year as President of Muskegon Community College. Since his appointment, a $24 million bond authorization was approved by Muskegon County voters, while the college has secured more than $17 million in state and federal grants and $3 million in private gifts to support the most ambitious upgrade of its facilities since the construction of the main campus in 1967. Just as importantly, in 2017 MCC was ranked #1 in the State of Michigan by BestCollges.com based upon gainful employment, graduation rates, and university transfer rates.

Prior to joining MCC, Dr. Nesbary served as Vice President and Dean for Academic Affairs at Adrian College and as Associate Professor and Director of the Master of Public Administration Program at Oakland University. Additionally, he served as Research Director and Technical Services Director with the Boston Police Department, and held the positions of Assistant Director of Budget and Program Evaluation and Director of Contract Management with the City of Boston. He also held administrative appointments with the National Conference of State Legislatures and with the Michigan Senate Fiscal Agency.

Dr. Nesbary published three books and over 30 academic papers primarily in the areas of finance, technology, and policing and has keynoted conferences on topics as varied as Technology Leadership, Higher Education Governance, and Crisis Management in a Media Savvy World. He completed his Ph.D. in Law, Policy, and Society at Northeastern University, a Master of Public Administration degree from Western Michigan University, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science and Anthropology from Michigan State University. He resides in Muskegon with his wife of 39 years, Connie. He is the proud father of two adult children, Nicole and Matthew. His interests include baking bread, making jams, and trombone playing.

Carlos Piggee

Carlos Piggee, a husband and father of two, is a true testament to what it means to be a family man and leader in your community. Piggee has been working with young people for the last 14 years across the state of Michigan through Generation E, Ready for School Care and Share, The Big Red Heart Association, and GRCC workforce training program, along with several church and community events where he has spoken to youth.

Mr. Piggee received the Dale Carnegie Highest Award of Honor along with Graduate Coach Awards through the accredited program. He also had the opportunity to coordinate the Presidential visit for President Obama when he visited the manufacturing site of the first Lithium Ion Battery Facility in the U.S. located in Holland, Michigan. He was selected by his employer to work in France for a year to help his company explore more resources in the management sector to become more successful with the Lithium Ion Business. In his younger years, Mr. Piggee pursued his bachelor's degree in Business from Ferris State University and made a vow to speak to youth about life experiences. He decided to focus more on urban education to find ways to help his community and the youth within Muskegon County.

Currently, Mr. Piggee works as a High-Performance Team Coordinator and Human Resource Supervisor for the world's first battery manufacturer, Johnson Controls. Eight years ago, he helped with the launch of the first lithium ion battery plant in the U.S. Additionally, Mr. Piggee considers himself lucky because he has the opportunity to work with his company and GRCC's workforce training program to help working adults get the training they need to become more successful in the workforce. He is a passionate motivational leader and youth speaker that values working with families, schools and communities as they make their journey through life. He is a board member of The Big Red Heart Scholarship Association, where he helps to generate scholarship funds for high school seniors that plan to enter the medical field in college. Mr. Piggee has plans to continue to find ways to help his community grow as a people. He is passionate about helping others and will always exercise service before self in every situation. Mr. Carlos Piggee is one of Muskegon's rising leaders!

Honorable Gregory C. Pittman

Gregory C. Pittman is a Probate Judge for the Fourteenth Judicial Circuit Court in Muskegon County. Judge Pittman is the Presiding Judge of the Family Division. He hears Family Divisions cases which include domestic relations, neglect and abuse, and delinquency matters.

Judge Pittman received his undergraduate degree from Michigan State University in 1983 and his Juris Doctor degree from Indiana University in 1987. He has worked in both the public sector and the private practice of law. He served with the Michigan Department of Commerce, the Kent County Public Defender's Office, and as a Magistrate for the 60th Judicial District. He worked with the firm Williams, Hughes, Corwin and Sinninger and as adjunct faculty member at Muskegon Community College. He was appointed to the court by Governor John Engler in 1998.

Active in the community, Judge Pittman is an appointed member of the Governor's Task Force for Children's Justice, a member of the Board of Trustees for the Community Foundation for Muskegon County and Hackley Hospital, a co-founder of Muskegon Responsible Fathers Initiative, former president of the Muskegon Heights Public Schools Board of Trustees, and former trustee for the Muskegon Area Intermediate School District.

Reverend Charles W. Poole

Reverend Charles W. Poole is the Senior Pastor for Bethesda Baptist Church, the oldest African American church in Muskegon County. Reverend Poole was deeply involved in the Civil Rights Movement, and made history in 1970 when he was elected to the Muskegon Public Schools Board of Education, the first African-American to hold office in Muskegon.

Reverend Poole grew up on the east side of Detroit, in a deeply religious household, with both maternal grandfathers serving as Baptist ministers, his father a Deacon, and his mother a preacher. His uncle was Elijah Muhammad, founder and longtime leader of the Nation of Islam. Reverend Poole's personal and family legacy is tied directly to slavery — his great-grandparents were born slaves — and the Civil Rights movement, and he survived cross burnings, discrimination, the bombing of his grandfather's church in Detroit during the Great Depression, and other acts of racial violence over the course of his life.

Active in the Civil Rights Movement, Reverend Poole was a close friend of Martin Luther King, Jr., and struggled and fought alongside him. After leading a church in Inkster, he moved to Muskegon in 1963 to lead Bethesda Baptist Church. After serving two terms on the Board of Education from 1970 to 1978, he took a break, including moving away from the area to pastor a church in New Mexico. Reverend Poole accepted an appointment back to the Board of Education in 1997, and after re-election in 1999 served as president of the Board until his retirement in 2011.

William Roberson

Will Roberson Sr. is employed with the State of Michigan as a Success Coach, where he encourages and guides families in their daily efforts to become self-supporting while assisting them in meeting some basic needs during their journey. He graduated from Whitehall High School and has a Bachelor's Degree from Baker College of Muskegon. He is married to the lovely Fatima Roberson, a high school history teacher at Muskegon High School. Together they have seven wonderful children and two grandchildren. In his spare time, Mr. Roberson enjoys spending time with his family and mentoring the youth of his community.

Artisse Sanders

Artisse Sanders is an Independent Business Owner Director with Total Life Changes Health and Wellness Company. He developed an early interest in healthy living by observing his parents, reading, and attending health seminars. After graduating from Muskegon High School, he attended Michigan Laborers' Training and Apprenticeship Institute where he received certification in the removal of lead, hazardous waste, and more. Afterward, Mr. Sanders studied at Kalamazoo Valley Community College and Western Michigan University, aspiring to become a personal trainer.

Mr. Sanders' health behaviors jive well with promoting and maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

During his leisure time he enjoys hanging out with family and friends, exercising, cooking, listening to motivational speakers, and serving others. He is a well-balanced individual who firmly believes "Without Health there is No Wealth".

J. Arthur Sanders

J Arthur Sanders' life has been shaped by his passion and drive to be an artist. He recalls this yearning as early as three years old, when his longing to create led him to practice drawing and coloring on paper, in books, and on walls using pencils, crayons, and watercolor.

After high school, Mr. Sanders attended barber school and worked part-time for several years as a registered barber while completing an undergraduate degree in painting and education. He later returned to school and earned a Master of Fine Arts degree in painting, drawing, and watercolor from Western Michigan University. Additionally, he studied at Instituto Allende San Miguel de Allende in Guanajuato, Mexico.

Until his retirement, Mr. Sanders taught visual fine arts at Muskegon Heights Public Schools where he assisted and motivated students to create art. He now makes art full-time, and his paintings can be found in museums and public and private collections.

As an artist and teacher, Mr. Sanders has garnered significant recognition and awards. He won the Third Place International Bronze Medal Award and an Honorary Master degree from Ligoa Duncan in Paris, France, and the Best of Show Award in the 59th Annual Regional at the Muskegon Museum of Art. During Western Michigan University's Centennial celebrations, he was recognized as one of the 100 Distinguished Art Alumni in professional practice, art instruction, and the application of art to other professions.

J. Arthur Sanders is married to his college sweetheart, Velma, and they have four adult sons.

“Without art, I'm silent.”

Rodney L. Savage

Rodney L. Savage is the Senior Pastor of Great Lakes Kingdom Ministry, a thriving church in downtown Muskegon. He is a dedicated and involved leader in both the not-for-profit and for-profit organizations within the community in which he was born and raised.

He has served as the AmeriCorps Liaison for Muskegon County for My Brother's Keeper since 2016, and the Social Media and Promotion Coordinator for United Way Worldwide since 2015. Prior to these roles, he managed social media for Chippewa Hotel, Inc., Lilac Tree Hotel and Spa, and the Pink Pony Bar and Grill. In 2017, he received the Outstanding Service Award from My Brother's Keeper.

Bishop Nathaniel W. Wells, Jr.

Bishop Nathaniel W. Wells' life is a thread that connects his calling to his passion; when asked what motivates him, he states that it's his love for God and his concern for the human race. Since birth, he has had a connection with God that grew into an intimate relationship, leading him to become a Saint of God.

Under the leadership of his father, the late Bishop Nathaniel Wells, Sr., he served faithfully for 15 years as co-pastor of Community and Holy Trinity churches and, in April of 1976, Elder Nathaniel Wells, Jr. became the full-time and senior pastor of Holy Trinity Institutional COGIC. He was elevated to the position of Jurisdictional Bishop for the Western Michigan Jurisdiction in 1985.

During these 40 years of pastoral duties, he has been a Jurisdictional Bishop for 31 years, has served 2 terms on the National Trustee Board, 2 terms on the National Judiciary Board, and was elected to the Presidium (the General Board) of the International Church of God In Christ. On July 13, 2014, Bishop Wells was presented an earned Doctor of Theology Degree from Midwest Theological University by Dr. Donald Jones, Th.D., President/Chancellor.

With all of the aforementioned accomplishments, Bishop Wells considers his greatest accomplishment becoming a Saint of God in 1961. In addition to his Ecclesiastical duties, Bishop believes his calling requires him to reach out and serve the "Total Man", thus his vision has taken Holy Trinity to another level - being an oasis for those in the community with unmet needs, both spiritual and natural. His God given vision has been to develop and implement programs and services in the areas of housing, education, economic and community development, senior and elderly service, child care, the jail and prison ministry, and health initiatives, to name a few. He has served on the Boards of and in various capacities for the Muskegon County United Way, Comerica Bank, Total Christian Television (TCT), Muskegon-Oceana Community Action Partnership, Inc., and was a Rotarian in the Muskegon and Benton Harbor/St. Joseph Rotary Clubs. He has received various civic and social community awards from organizations such as the Muskegon County Bar Association, Muskegon Economic Growth Alliance, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, and was the first recipient of the Reverend Doctor Donald B. Adkins Leadership Award for Religion. Through his community service and other social endeavors, he embodies the spirit of giving, caring and sharing, and being the catalyst for the Total Man Ministry and the Oasis of Love. Bishop readily acknowledges that all he is and ever hopes to be not only is through the divine intervention of God, but also because of the love, dedication, and support that comes from his wife, Elect Lady Mary Ann Wells. As the scripture reads in Proverbs 18:22, "Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favor of the Lord."

Bishop and Elect Lady Wells are the parents of 6 children: Paul, Chanita, Nathaniel III, Patricia, Anissa, and Tiffany. They have 12 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Chauncy Williams

Chauncy Williams strives to be the bridge that connects students to their goals and passions. He is currently a teacher for Muskegon Public Schools, a retention specialist for United States Student Loan Help, a life skills instructor for the Fresh Start Program, an affiliate of Lexington Law, and a planner/manager for Generation X Disciples. Growing up in a community where very few people either had the advantage or took advantage of an education, he realized at a young age the opportunities he would have if he completed an education beyond high school. In pursuing a higher education, he wanted to be a model for individuals who were hesitant, afraid, or had doubts about their abilities, to serve as an outlet and role model for children by showing that going beyond your current circumstances and becoming successful is possible. Mr. Williams graduated from Muskegon Heights Public Schools in 1995, Cambridge College in 2004, and Cornerstone University in 2014. He holds a Masters of Education and a Masters in Urban Ministry Leadership.

As an Educator, Mr. Williams believes it is important to constantly educate oneself in order to provide the most relevant and effective educational methods. He also believes that the need to challenge yourself and the individuals you help is the key for personal growth and improvement. His passion has been shaped and formed through his relationship with his now deceased father, Ira David Williams II, and his father's experiences of serving in World War II, the Civil Rights movement, and the conflicts arising from racism and an awareness of racial identity.

Dr. Anthony Wilson

Anthony Wilson, M.D., was born and raised in Detroit. After completing high school at Martin Luther King High School he attended Wayne State University and obtained his Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology in 1980 and his medical degree in 1987. He then completed a year of Internal Medicine at St. John Hospital in Detroit and a 3 year residency program in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Rehabilitation Institute of Michigan in 1991. From there, he began working at Orthopaedic Associates of Muskegon in 1992.

As a Physical Medicine Rehabilitation Specialist, Dr. Wilson was dedicated to reintegrating his patients back into the community after horrific injuries. His duties consisted of numerous procedures and consultation evolutions, including spinal injections and electromyographic nerve conduction studies.

Dr. Wilson was the Medical Director of Mercy Hospital's Inpatient Rehabilitation Unit from 1992 to 2008. He was a member of numerous associations, including the American Medical Association, Michigan State Medical Society, National Medical Association, and International Spinal Intervention Society.
